

Welcome to the Call of Hope Website

The Call of Hope website is created and maintained by a group of believers whose goal is to help and encourage people to read and study the Bible.

To achieve this aim, we offer literature, articles, Biblical stories, radio programs and spiritual music.

This service is not only provided in English but also in Arabic and we are planning to add new materials in other languages in the future.

We offer you a wide range of spiritual material that covers many different aspects of Biblical faith.

Our site was created for people who are seeking to know the truth, disregarding age, religion, culture, or gender. If you have any questions or suggestions we encourage you to write to us by email or regular mail.

We pray that God will use this website to answer your questions and extend your understanding of Him.
